

KIPPAX PARISH COUNCIL GRIEVANCE POLICY

Approved: 16th April 2026

Item: 160/FC/2526e

Review date: March 2027

M Eyre

Signed by Chairman, Councillor Martin Eyre

Introduction

1. This policy is based on and complies with the 2015 ACAS Code of Practice (<http://www.acas.org.uk/index.aspx?articleid=2174>).
2. It also takes account of the ACAS guide on discipline and grievances at work. (https://www.acas.org.uk/media/1043/Discipline-and-grievances-at-work-The-Acas-guide/pdf/DG_Guide_Feb_2019.pdf).
3. It aims to encourage and maintain good relationships between the Council and its employees by treating grievances seriously and resolving them as quickly as possible. It sets out the arrangements for employees to raise their concerns, problems or complaints about their employment with the Council. The policy will be applied fairly, consistently and in accordance with the Equality Act 2010.
4. Many problems can be raised and settled during the course of everyday working relationships. Employees should aim to settle most grievances informally with their line manager.
5. This policy confirms:
 - employees have the right to be accompanied or represented at a grievance meeting or appeal by a companion who can be a workplace colleague, a trade union representative or a trade union official. This includes any meeting held with them to hear about, gather facts about, discuss, consider or resolve their grievance. The companion will be permitted to address the grievance/appeal meetings, to present the employee's case for their grievance/appeal and to confer with the employee. The companion cannot answer questions put to the employee, address the meeting against the employee's wishes or prevent the employee from explaining their case.

- the Council will give employees reasonable notice of the date of the grievance/appeal meetings. Employees and their companions must make all reasonable efforts to attend. If the companion is not available for the proposed date of the meeting, the employee can request a postponement and can propose an alternative date that is within five working days of the original meeting date unless it is unreasonable not to propose a later date.
- any changes to specified time limits must be agreed by the employee and the Council
- an employee has the right to appeal against the decision about their grievance. The appeal decision is final.
- information about an employee's grievance will be restricted to those involved in the grievance process. A record of the reason for the grievance, its outcome and action taken is confidential to the employee. The employee's grievance records will be held by the Council in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)
- audio or video recordings of the proceedings at any stage of the grievance procedure are prohibited, unless agreed by all affected parties as a reasonable adjustment that takes account of an employee's medical condition.
- if an employee who is already subject to a disciplinary process raises a grievance, the grievance will normally be heard after completion of the disciplinary procedure.
- if a grievance is not upheld, no disciplinary action will be taken against an employee if they raised the grievance in good faith.
- the Council may consider mediation at any stage of the grievance procedure where appropriate, (for example where there have been communication breakdowns or allegations of bullying or harassment). Mediation is a dispute resolution process which requires the consent of affected parties.
- employees can use all stages of the grievance procedure If the complaint is not a code of conduct complaint about a councillor. Employees can use the informal stage of the council's grievance procedure (paragraph 7) to deal with all grievance issues, including a complaint about a councillor. Employees cannot use the formal stages of the council's grievance procedure for a code of conduct complaint about a councillor. If the complaint about the councillor is not resolved at the informal stage, the employee can contact the monitoring officer of Leeds City Council who will inform the employee whether or not the complaint can be dealt with under the code of conduct. If it does not concern the code of conduct, the employee can make a formal complaint under the council's grievance procedure (see paragraph 8)
- if the grievance is a code of conduct complaint against a councillor, the employee cannot proceed with it beyond the informal stage of the council's grievance procedure. However, whatever the complaint, the council has a duty of care to its employees. It must take all reasonable steps to ensure employees have a safe working environment, for example by undertaking risk assessments, by ensuring staff and councillors are properly trained and by protecting staff from bullying, harassment and all forms of discrimination.

- if an employee considers that the grievance concerns their safety within the working environment, whether or not it also concerns a complaint against a councillor, the employee should raise these safety concerns with their line manager, or the Chair of the Personnel Committee at the informal stage of the grievance procedure. The council will consider whether it should take further action in this matter in accordance with any of its employment policies (for example its health and safety policy or its bullying and harassment policy) and in accordance with the code of conduct regime

Informal grievance procedure

6. The Council and its employees benefit if grievances are resolved informally and as quickly as possible. As soon as a problem arises, the employee should raise it with their line manager to see if an informal solution is possible. Both should try to resolve the matter at this stage. If the employee does not want to discuss the grievance with their manager (for example, because it concerns the manager), the employee should contact the Chair of the Personnel Committee or, if appropriate, another member of the Personnel Committee. If the employee's complaint is about a councillor, it may be appropriate to involve that councillor at the informal stage. This will require both the employee's and the councillor's consent.

Formal grievance procedure

7. If it is not possible to resolve the grievance informally and the employee's complaint is not one that should be dealt with as a code of conduct complaint (see above), the employee may submit a formal grievance. It should be submitted in writing to the Chair of the Personnel Committee.
8. The Full Council will elect members to a Hearing/Appeals Panel Pool on an annual basis at the Annual Meeting of the Council so that if a dispute does arise in the workplace the elected members involved are already trained and briefed on their duties as a hearing or appeal panel member. In situations where individual members of the pool are implicated in the dispute or have undertaken an investigatory role then they will not be able to take part in the hearing or appeal.
9. The Personnel Committee will appoint three members from the Hearing/Appeals Panel Pool to hear the grievance, and the Chair of the Panel from one of its members.
10. The Personnel Committee will also appoint three members from the Hearing/Appeals Panel Pool to hear an appeal, should one arise, and the Chair of the Panel from one of its members.

Investigation

11. If the Personnel Committee decides that it is appropriate, (e.g. if the grievance is complex), it may appoint an investigator, from the Hearing/Appeals Panel Pool, to carry out an investigation before the grievance meeting to establish the facts of the case. The investigation may include interviews (e.g. the employee submitting the grievance, other employees, councillors or members of the public).

12. The investigator will summarise their findings (usually within an investigation report) and present their findings to the hearing panel.

Notification

13. Within 10 working days of the Council receiving the employee's grievance (this may be longer if there is an investigation), the employee will normally be asked, in writing, to attend a grievance meeting. The written notification will include the following:
 - the names of its Chair and other members
 - the date, time and place for the meeting. The employee will be given reasonable notice of the meeting which will normally be within 25 working days of when the Council received the grievance
 - the employee's right to be accompanied by a workplace colleague, a trade union representative or a trade union official
 - a copy of the Council's Grievance Policy
 - confirmation that, if necessary, witnesses may attend (or submit witness statements) on the employee's behalf and that the employee should provide the names of their witnesses as soon as possible before the meeting
 - confirmation that the employee will provide the Council with any supporting evidence in advance of the meeting, usually with at least two days' notice
 - findings of the investigation if there has been an investigation
 - an invitation for the employee to request any adjustments to be made for the hearing (for example where a person has a health condition).

The grievance meeting

14. At the grievance meeting:
 - the Chair will introduce the members of the hearing panel to the employee
 - the employee (or companion) will set out the grievance and present the evidence
 - the Chair will ask the employee questions about the information presented and will want to understand what action they want the Council to take
 - any member of the Hearing Panel and the employee (or the companion) may question any witness
 - the employee (or companion) will have the opportunity to sum up the case
 - a grievance meeting may be adjourned to allow matters that were raised during the meeting to be investigated by the Hearing Panel.
15. The Chair will provide the employee with the Hearing Panel decision, in writing, usually within five working days of the meeting though may be longer e.g. where further investigations are required. The letter will notify the employee of the action, if any, that the Council will take and of the employee's right to appeal.

The appeal

16. If an employee decides that their grievance has not been satisfactorily resolved by the Hearing Panel, they may submit a written appeal to the Appeal Panel. An appeal must be received by the Council within five working days of the employee receiving the Hearing Panel decision and must specify the grounds of appeal.

17. Appeals may be raised on a number of grounds, e.g.:
 - a failure by the Council to follow its Grievance Policy
 - the decision was not supported by the evidence
 - the action proposed by the Hearing Panel was inadequate/inappropriate
 - new evidence has come to light since the grievance meeting.
18. The appeal will be heard by an Appeal Panel, made up of the three members of the Hearing/ Appeal Panel Pool, appointed by the Personnel Committee.
19. The employee will be notified, in writing, usually within 10 working days of receipt of the appeal of the time, date and place of the appeal meeting. The meeting will normally take place within 25 working days of the Council's receipt of the appeal. The employee will be advised that they may be accompanied by a workplace colleague, a trade union representative or a trade union official.
20. At the appeal meeting, the Chair will:
 - introduce the panel members to the employee
 - explain the purpose of the meeting, which is to hear the employee's reasons for appealing against the decision of the staffing sub-committee
 - explain the action that the appeal panel may take.
21. The employee (or companion) will be asked to explain the grounds of appeal.
22. The Chair will inform the employee that they will receive the decision and the panel's reasons, in writing, within five working days of the appeal meeting.
23. The Appeal Panel may decide to uphold the decision of the hearing panel or substitute its own decision.
24. The decision of the Appeal Panel is final.
